WELCOME TO MEXICO

Awe-inspiring resorts, set on powdery sands on sprawling coastlines. Darling coastal villages, where fútbol is played by youngsters on the same streets the greatest European conquistadors and Aztec, Incan, and Mayan warriors once strode; where old traditions live on, tortillas are still handmade, chocolate is served spiced, and Mayan and Nahuatl languages flow like the rivers that run through the country's jungle.

These are only some of the lasting impressions made by the United Mexican States, the tenth most populated country in the world. Featuring a landscape that offers sugar-white beaches, cinnamon deserts, and cities both forgotten and remembered in between, it's no wonder that so many Americans come here each year in search of paradise.

They head south to feel the kiss of the sun on their skin and the whisper of clear water at their feet. The rush of warm air as they zip through lush rainforests, countered by the crisp coolness of a refreshing cenote. The taste of pestle-ground guacamole, filling tamales, savory barbacoa, or heavenly carnitas, spiced with fresh chiles and tempered with a cornucopia of tropical fruit and mild cheeses.

From the Sea of Cortez to the Yucatan Peninsula, and the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific Ocean, the magic of Mexico awaits, each destination eager to make its own lasting impression.

COZUMEL

Heaven on Earth

Cozumel, Mexico's largest island at 30 miles long and ten miles wide, has long been a favorite cruising port, even back in the 17th century, when it served as a treasury for pirates. Today, it's a treasury for marine life, with visibility of up to 200 feet and cenote diving sites created by underground rivers. Known as one of the world's most spectacular places to scuba dive, visitors to nearby Riviera Maya and Playa del Carmen often take the ferry ride just for the 25 coral reefs found off this island's shores.

On this mostly undeveloped, island jungle destination, nature takes the spotlight. Part of the Cozumel Reefs National Park, the Chankanaab National Park features the Chankanaab Lagoon—the only inland coral reef in the world—and the Punta Sur Eco Park, another top attraction. Its Faro de Celarain lighthouse has a museum, observation towers with crocodile views, and the old whistling Mayan lighthouse, El Caracol. Four Mayan archaeological sites round out the ancient culture, while the town of San Miguel provides a taste of today's culture, with hopping restaurants and active nightlife.
