THINGS TO KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

To ensure you're fully prepared for your European vacation, please refer to the information below and consult your travel advisor with any questions.

NEW ETIAS REQUIREMENT

In accordance with the European Travel Information and Authorization System (ETIAS), an ETIAS waiver will be required for U.S. passport holders traveling to Europe for up to 90 days within a 180-day period. This requirement is expected to become effective in 2025 (date yet to be announced). Refer to the ETIAS website for updates.

DOCUMENTATION

Proper documentation is your responsibility. For travel to European countries, your passport must be valid for up to 6 months after your return. Contact your advisor or the consulates of the countries you're visiting for the most current requirements. We strongly recommend carrying a color copy of your passport's picture page on your person; however, if traveling between countries, carry your actual passport.

HEALTH & SAFETY

We strongly recommend that you visit the U.S. Department of State and Center for Disease Control and Prevention websites for important information on foreign travel, as well as our Health & Safety Tips.

BAGGAGE

The standard carry-on size for European carriers is slightly smaller than U.S. domestic flights, measuring 21.7 by 15.7 by 9 inches. Please check your air carrier's website to ensure that your baggage size and weight meet their requirements.

ELECTRONICS

The official voltage for Europe, the UK, and Ireland is 230, whereas most U.S. outlets are 110V. If your appliances don't use this voltage, you'll need to purchase an outlet converter adaptable for 2 round-pronged or 3 flat rectangle-pronged (UK and Ireland) outlets.

ACCOMMODATIONS AND MEAL PLANS

In general, rooms are smaller than in the Americas, and washcloths and toiletries are often not provided. Many hotels offer meal plans such as:

All-inclusive – Includes all meals, select drinks, daily activities, and nightly entertainment. Such plans may also be referred to as Endless Privileges[®] or Unlimited-Luxury[®].

Full-board – Includes breakfast, lunch, and dinner.

Half-board – Includes breakfast and lunch.

DINING OUT

Tipping in restaurants is appreciated, but often not expected. When tipping is common, 5% is normal and 10% is considered generous. Service is generally less hurried than in the Americas.

USEFUL TIPS

Travel light, wear comfortable shoes, and ensure your luggage has sturdy wheels to withstand the steps and cobble streets of Europe. Also, be prepared to pay a small fee for the use of public restrooms!

By booking with Travel Impressions, a brand of ALG Vacations[®] Corp, you agree to our General Cancellation Terms & Conditions. Any payment constitutes acceptance of these terms. Please review this document prior to booking.

WELCOME TO EUROPE

Even with a vast ocean between us, the lure of the Old World is inescapable and its magic untranslatable. Every region in every country has its own deep, wholly unique roots. These roots connect intricately throughout the continent, a complex network from which sprouted the origins of nearly every facet of Western society.

Squint into the distance: you can still see the ghosts of rising dust clouds on roads leading to Rome or Athens. Time travel becomes easy when staying in a historic castle in the wilds of Ireland; among the cypress-guarded hills of sun-drenched Tuscany; or amid the azulejos-tiled buildings of Seville. It simply stands still when sipping an espresso on the canals of Venice or Amsterdam or while listening to the whistle of the wind through the heather of Scotland.

Travel inland and feel the rumble of carriages over age-old cobblestones, reverberating through your soles in places like Frankfurt, Porto, and Paris. Crane your neck until you can stretch it no more to take in majestic spires that twist into the sun in London, Zurich, or Barcelona. Trade those towers for whitewashed buildings capped in blue in Greece or Croatia.

Regardless of the European destination, find yourself swept up in the romance of a fairy tale—a story still being written.

THE NETHERLANDS

Painted in Progress

Houseboats bobbing merrily in tree-lined canals. Narrow streets that provide a counterpart to nearly 20,000 miles of biking trails, punctuated by the bells of passing cyclists. Fields awash in stripes of every color as tulips turn their faces to the breeze of 1,200 picturesque windmills. All of these images are redolent of only one place: the Netherlands, one of the most broad-minded and utterly charming countries in the world.

Although famous as a land of philosophers and painters, scientists and physicists, it's home to more bicycles than people—good-naturedly known as Kaaskoppen (“cheeseheads”) due to their love of cheese. Taste gouda, edam, and limburger in the places they were named for in shops tucked away between Gothic halls and traditionally gabled houses. Within their walls, find hints of the scenes captured on canvas by Golden Age greats like Rembrandt and Vermeer. Beyond them, catch a game at one of the 35,000 sport clubs dotted throughout the Netherlands or lose yourself in the rhythms of Nederpop, Nederhop, or EDM in one of the many nightclubs. Whichever beat guides your feet, the destination they'll long to return to is just one—the Netherlands.

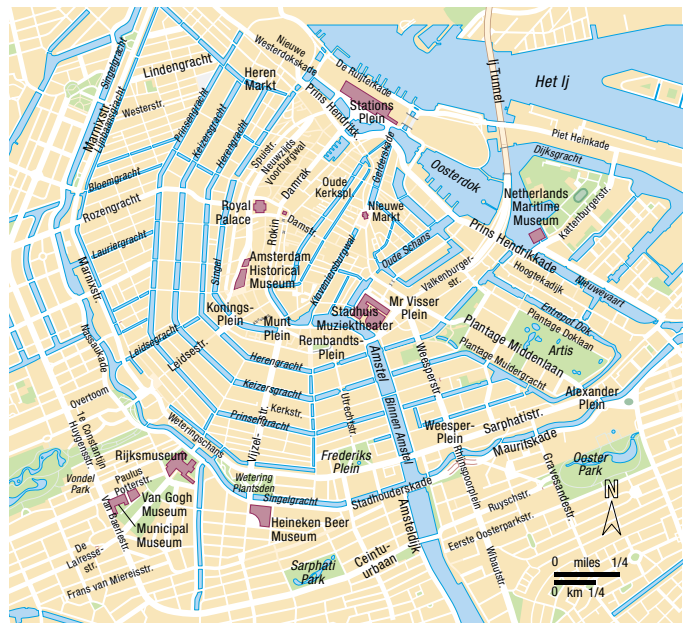

AMSTERDAM

The capital is without a doubt the Netherlands' most well-known city. The density of Amsterdam's riches is simply astounding—fitting for a place nicknamed the “City of Diamonds” for the Gassan Diamonds factory. Its 17th century canal district is a UNESCO World Heritage Site, while the Anne Frank House is an international cultural treasure. There are more museums per mile than almost anywhere in the world, including one celebrating native son Vincent van Gogh. Several others feature the Dutch master Rembrandt's works.

Dam Square, once the scene for the city's central marketplace, is awash in patriotic orange for Queen's Day once a year, but colorful with the plumage of shoppers the rest of it. The 9 Straatjes district nearby and the two-story Magna Plaza in a UNESCO monument building attract even more browsers, while curious tourists flock to the famous—and infamous—Red Light District for its novelty. Far more innocent is the floating flower market in the Singel Canal. As for crafts, wooden clogs and hand-painted Delft porcelain from the only earthenware factory from the 1600s to remain today are quintessential gifts that can only be found in the Netherlands.

ROTTERDAM

Lovingly restored to its pre-World War II grandeur, the greenest city in the Netherlands is as much an architect's darling as an outdoorist's. Such is only fitting for the host of the largest architectural festival in the Netherlands, held every June. Artists and innovators come to admire the reconstructed Laurenskerk, a medieval church; Euromast, the country's highest observation tower at over 600 feet; Van Nelle Factory, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and prime example of Rotterdam's New Building movement; unique cube-shaped, vibrant yellow Kijk-Kubus Museum-house; and the UNESCO-listed 18th century windmills of nearby village Kinderdijk.

That love of design carries over to verdant spaces like the Trompenburg Gardens & Arboretum, an eight-hectare museum that houses the national collection of oaks, beech, holly, and hostas—as well as 700 species of rhododendrons—and the Hofbogenpark, a former railway now the Netherlands' longest rooftop park, spanning over a mile. Outdoor art, from a freestanding open door to the sculpture garden of Zuiderpark (South Park), adds a purely Dutch brand of whimsy while the horseshoe-shaped Market Hall feeds the senses with more than 100 food stalls. These are honored by the largest artwork in the nation: Horn of Plenty, portraying a cornucopia of culinary delights across 4,000 steel panels.

THE HAGUE

Only an hour outside of Amsterdam, the political center of the Netherlands is a worthy contender for the country's most beloved city. After all, what better place than the Green City by the Sea to serve as seat to the Royal Family and Dutch government? But the Malieveld, a huge field host to national celebrations and open-air theater, dominates the city center, while seven miles of beautiful beaches offer further natural enrichment just 15 minutes away. In between, the Peace Palace, home to the U.N.'s International Court of Justice and the Hague's most-photographed building, the Art Nouveau galleries and cafés of the Het Noordeinde, and the Palace Garden, a peaceful picnic spot, offer ample leisure pursuits.

A love of creativity is practically written into law here. Festivals dedicated to food trucks, beer and wine, and theater can be enjoyed year-round. Commissioned street art and three designated spots for legal graffiti speak to a deep appreciation for the arts displayed even more spectacularly at the Mauritshuis museum, where masterworks by Rembrandt and Vermeer hold spots of national honor. Modern skyscrapers and historical treasures dot the main square, the Plein, known equally for its trendy restaurants and vibrant nightlife. Bike or hike your way through it all, pausing to browse the flower stalls and antique shops of The Hague Market—a tradition since 1920.
